

California NWS Seal Beach Detachment Corona

Facility and Location

Naval Surface Warfare Center (NSWC) Corona, a detachment of Naval Weapons Station Seal Beach, is the Navy's only independent analysis and assessment center. The mission of NSWC Corona Division is to gauge the war fighting capacity of ships and aircraft, from unit to battle group level, by assessing the suitability of design, the performance of weapons and equipment, and the adequacy of training. In order to carry out this mission, NSWC Corona Division possesses a number of unique capabilities. Foremost among these is the Warfare Assessment Laboratory which is the cornerstone of an integrated approach to warfare assessment and the focal point of internal and external interconnectivity. NSWC Corona Division provides independent assessment capability, metrology and calibration laboratories, and Tactical Aircrew Combat training system ranges. The Base Realignment and Closure commission recommendations were to close Naval Support Activity Corona and relocate NSWC Corona Division to Naval Base Ventura County.
