

South Carolina McCrary Training Center

---

Facility and Location

The McCrary Training Center is a South Carolina Army National Guard facility in Eastover, southeast of Columbia. In January 2006 it became the central training facility for Navy and Air Force personnel assigned as Individual Augmentees. The center is operated by Task Force Marshall, and the Individual Augmentee Training Program is modeled closely after the refresher training conducted for drilling reservists. Prior to using this centralized facility personnel were trained in several other locations including Fort Lewis, Washington, Camp Shelby, Mississippi, Fort Bliss, Texas, and Fort Benning, Georgia. The McCrary facility is capable of processing up to 600 students at once with an annual budget of $16.7 million.

Media Sampled and Findings

Drinking Water — In 2011, four of four samples detected perchlorate from 0.23 to 0.9 ppb.

Appropriate Actions

Not Applicable. All samples were below the EPA and DoD Preliminary Remediation Goal of 15 ppb.