

DoD Ergonomics Working Group NEWS

Issue 3, March 2002

<http://chppm-www.apgea.army.mil/ergowg/>

The DoD Ergonomics Working Group is pleased to announce the Co-Keynote Speaker for their 2nd Annual Ergonomics Conference, Forging Ahead: Preventing Work Related Musculoskeletal Disorders, at the Westfields Marriott, Chantilly, Virginia, 29-30 April, 2002:

Margaret M. Seminario Director of Occupational Safety and Health American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations (AFL-CIO)

Margaret (Peg) Seminario is Director of Occupational Safety and Health for the AFL-CIO. She has worked for the AFL-CIO since 1977, and since 1990 has been responsible for directing the AFL-CIO's activities on safety and health.

She has worked extensively on a wide range of regulatory and legislative initiatives at the federal and state level and coordinated the labor movement's campaigns on Right to Know, ergonomics, and other key job safety issues.

Ms. Seminario serves on numerous federal agency and scientific advisory committees and has participated in international safety and health work through the International Labor Organization (ILO), the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD), and international trade union organizations.

She holds an M.S. degree in industrial hygiene from the Harvard School of Public Health and a B.A. in biological sciences from Wellesley College.

---

This conference is jointly sponsored by the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences (USUHS) and the DoD Ergonomics Working Group. USUHS is accredited by the American College of Health Care Executives, the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education and the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation to provide continuing education for health care executives, physicians and nurses, respectively.

The registration fee, which includes your meals, is $300 for Government attendees and $400 for industry attendees. Go to <http://chppm-www.apgea.army.mil/ergowg/conference/> for detailed information on registration and the agenda, speakers, exhibitors, continuing education credits, and hotel.