FUDS 101 Orientation
AUG 19, 2025 | 2 – 4 PM ET

TOPICS INCLUDE:

- ➔ Formerly Used Defense Sites (FUDS) Overview
- ➔ Roles and Responsibilities in the FUDS Program
- ➔ Cleanup at FUDS

Join the Department of Defense (DoD) for a high-level overview of the FUDS Program. U.S. Army Corps of Engineers speakers and State stakeholders will present on the unique aspects of and how cleanup is executed at FUDS sites. During this webinar, attendees will gain an understanding of how the FUDS Program fits within the Defense Environmental Restoration Program and complies with the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act. Speakers will also discuss the importance of regulator and community collaboration and engagement, which is key to maintaining efficient and effective FUDS Program execution. Attendees will engage in activities and discussions throughout the presentation. The intended audience for this webinar includes DoD, Federal and State regulators, and Federal Land Managers, especially personnel who are new to FUDS.

This webinar is intended to provide a general overview of the FUDS Program and will not be comprehensive. DoD intends to host future webinars to provide more in-depth discussions about FUDS. For immediate questions, please contact DoDWebinars@bah.com.
