

Missouri Headquarters State Area Command

Facility and Location

The Missouri Army National Guard Headquarters State Area Command is located in Jefferson City. The site is roughly 400 acres with various buildings including a state museum, barracks, storage and office buildings, and several parking areas. There is a historic range currently being addressed by the Military Munitions Response Program and preliminary soil samples taken indicated no issues. Other ranges were assessed under the Operational Range Assessment Program and received an unlikely status.

Media Sampled and Findings

Drinking Water — In 2011, two samples reported no detection.

Appropriate Actions

Not Applicable. All samples were below the EPA and DoD Preliminary Remediation Goal of 15 ppb.